FROM THE PASTOR'S DESK

Hope all are enjoying the beauty of the autumn season!

This weekend we celebrate Thanksgiving! This provides all of us with some opportunities to reflect on the many blessings we have received and to thank God for His goodness to us. May we never take our blessings for granted! On Thanksgiving Day, Monday October 10th, there will be a Mass at 10:00 a.m. in the Church. All are invited to come and say "Thank You" to God for all we have.

A problem that consistently presents itself is the upkeep of parish records. If you have changed your address, phone number or even email address, please contact the office so we can keep our parish contacts up to date. Thank you for your assistance in this matter.

Once again, I am looking for volunteers to help coordinate and help with the upcoming Children's Christmas Pageant which take place at the Masses on Christmas eve. If you are interested, please contact me as soon as possible. Both adults and older teens are invited to help in this ministry.

Have a great weekend!

Events and Meetings.....

CATHOLIC WOMEN'S LEAGUE GENERAL MEETING

Following 7:00 p.m. Mass, at approximately 7:45 p.m., Janice Gumbley, Executive Director for Glanbrook Home Support (G.H.S.), will speak to us about its Friday morning "Gentle Fit Yoga Class, followed by lunch" in Glanbrook! Her yoga DVD will lead us through gentle movements that can even be done sitting in one's chair. Volunteer lunch coordinator for G.H.S., Christine Crooks and her daughter, Donna will talk about the "Body by Vi Challenge" - a nutritional, meal-replacement shake which can change one's health for the better. All members of the parish are invited to attend. Wear comfy clothes!

LITURGY CHANGES COMING —

Why are the words of the Mass in English changing? In short, they are changing because we have new Latin words in the Missal published by Pope John Paul II and we have new rules for translating in the Roman instruction, Liturgiam Authenticam (2001).

When the Roman Missal issued by Pope Paul VI was published following the Second Vatican Council, the Bishops faced a new challenge. The liturgy had never been celebrated in English. Very few people had any experience of translating liturgical prayers into English. So, the English speaking Bishops established an international commission to do the work of translation. The international Committee on English in the Liturgy (ICEL) was constituted and included Bishop representatives from eleven countries: Australia, Canada, England and Wales, India, Ireland, New Zealand, Pakistan, Philippines, Scotland, South Africa and the United States of America. They were guided in their work by an instruction from the Vatican called Comme Le Prevoit (1969). This instruction directed that the translations be faithful to the Latin, but not necessarily word for word, and in a style of language easily understood. The principal of translation to be used was called "dynamic equivalence". The instruction also stated that after a period of time all translations would need to be reviewed. ICEL began such a review in 1980.

As a result of the review, people asked for more accurate, word for word translations, the use of the same sentence structure as the Latin (which usually has longer sentences), more formal language to reflect the fact that we are speaking God in public, and the correction of some mistranslations (e.g., the word "Father" was used in the 1970 Missal to translate Deus (God) and Domine (Lord). Almost all the requests for an improved translation are found in the new rules for translation listed in Liturgiam Authenticam. For this reason, many of the words have been changed in the prayers of the Mass.
